

NHTI, Concord's Community College
Business Administration Program Outcomes

1. Students will demonstrate oral and written communications competencies across the disciplines as instructors teach and require those skills in a variety of classes. Students will practice standard forms of communication such as resumes, letters, and reports.
2. Students will practice across the curriculum ethical and effective interpersonal skills in their relations with fellow students and instructors. They will demonstrate those skills in classroom and small group and workplace settings. Work experience supervisors will report satisfaction with students' skills, performance, and judgment during their internships.
3. Students will demonstrate familiarity with economic and managerial concepts and quantitative controls in the business environment by satisfactorily completing specific coursework.
4. A majority of the students who begin the program will complete the AS degree requirements within three years.
5. A majority of program graduates will report satisfaction with the Business Management education received at NHTI.
6. Seventy-five percent (75%) of students receiving a Business Management degree will be employed in a related field within six months of completing degree requirements OR be continuing in a four-year degree program.
