NHTI Women's Basketball Spring Semester Suspended

CONCORD — On Friday NHTI Athletic Director Paul Hogan announced that the NHTI Women's Basketball Season would be suspended for the Spring semester. "We are suspending women's basketball for the spring and will restart our program next fall with a regular game and practice schedule. In the meantime, recruiting, team fundraising, and organizational plans will be put in place."

This announcement follows the Yankee Small College Conference (YSCC) cancelling league play on November 5th as well as the United States Collegiate Athletic Association (USCAA) cancelling basketball, soccer, and volleyball national championships December 16th.

The women's basketball team led by head coach Dala Johnson had seven student-athletes in the fall who participated in practices and showed tremendous growth in their limited time on the court.

NHTI is still deciding on competition for other winter and spring sports, but the plan as of now is for independent schedules.
