

“Ain’t I a Woman”

Honoring four African-American women of remarkable achievement and invisible character: ex-slave and fiery abolitionist Sojourner Truth, renowned novelist and anthropologist Zora Neale Hurston, exuberant folk artist Clementine Hunter and fervant civil rights worker Fannie Lou Hamer. Text is by Kim Hines. The musical score is drawn from the heartfelt spirituals of the Deep South, the urban exuberance of the Jazz Age and concert music by African American composers including Diane Monroe.

While a good deal of factual information is included in Ain’t I a Woman, this one-hour program is intended to do more than merely “teach” a curriculum in social studies.

Instead, the program also focuses on how the lives and individual actions of these four inspiring women embody character traits that were anchors for the many ethical decisions at the heart of their compelling stories. The play demonstrates how these women overcame personal challenges and were able to achieve in an American society often unfriendly to social tolerance and acceptance.

NHTI Organization of the Week Alternative Spring Break (ASB)

The Alternative Spring Break (ASB) Club is a student-run organization that allows students to volunteer and perform community service in their local community and in communities across the country. In the past, the ASB Club has traveled to New Orleans, Louisiana, to help with building a home damaged by Hurricane Katrina. Earlier this year, the ASB Club safely volunteered at a distance with the Sycamore Community Gardens on campus. More recently, the ASB Club hosted a letter writing event to retirement community residents at Havenwood Heritage Heights. If you are interested in writing a letter (you still can!) or joining/pitching ideas for future ASB events, please send an email to the ASB Club advisor, Rhi Suarez, at rsuarez@ccsnh.edu

Above is where letters from the NHTI communitty are being hung at Havenwood Heritage Heights. Thank you to everyone who particapted and continues to particopate in this project. It really brings a smile to the residents faces!
