An English associate degree enhances cultural knowledge and creative thinking. This program gives you significant leeway to focus your studies on literature or writing. You'll build writing and communication skills valuable in work and academic life.

Bringing a range of study to many disciplines, this NHTI English degree easily transfers into a number of liberal arts programs at four-year colleges and universities; this saves you money while you explore your passions and expand your understanding of issues important to humanity throughout history. Our NHTI faculty are experts in their fields and practice student-centered teaching with small classes and specialized learning opportunities.

Academic Options

While some literature courses are required of all majors, your upper-level English electives can focus on creative writing (fiction, nonfiction, poetry, or drama) or advanced literature (including Women and Literature, Modern Short Story, and The Novel).

You can take mindful versions of English Composition and Introduction to Literature with the Communicating Mindfully elective; this adds a one-credit capstone and makes you eligible to receive your academic certificate in Mindful Communication. This certificate can make you more marketable across a broad range of fields.

Career Opportunities

The NHTI English Associate Degree allows you to transfer to a four-year institution to complete a bachelor's degree in English or a related field. An English degree opens avenues to a wide range of careers. The advanced writing and thinking gained in this major are coveted in education, public relations, writing, publishing, advertising, law, and business.
