

"If you don't sacrifice for things you want, what you want becomes the sacrifice."

I don't know who said that, but we know school takes sacrifice and hard work. The question becomes, "what are you willing to sacrifice now to get what you want later?" The truth is that if you give up on school, you will never graduate.

You know that you have to sacrifice important things like, time, money, things you want to do, but there are many things you might have to sacrifice that you may not have considered:

- You might have to sacrifice your pride and ask for support
- You might have to sacrifice doing things the same way you have always done if they are not working anymore

- You might have to sacrifice staying home where it's warm to meet up with your study group
- You might have to sacrifice the idea that the instructor has all the answers and take the initiative

Sacrificing now will ensure you get what you want later.

Support can be found:

Academic Center for Excellence ACE including math tutoring, Writing Center, Study Solutions Lab, login issues, tutoring can be reached at NHTIACE@ccsnh.edu

Accessibility Services for accommodations can be reached at NHTIAccessibilityServices@ccsnh.edu

Academic Advising can be reached at NHTIAdvising@ccsnh.edu

Financial Assistance: https://www.nhti.edu/campus-life/wellness-resources/nhti-cares/Links to an external site.